

GreenBuild 2009 Phoenix, Arizona

Over 1800 companies exhibited at the GreenBuild 2009 in Phoenix, Arizona with over 27,000 attendees.

Scott Sage, a heat recovery rep in Phoenix, and his brother Jim, were vital in assisting Tom Allen with trade show materials and set up.

Scott Sage was a great help at the GreenBuild 2009

SunBoost premiered at the expo and was displayed along with Turbotec's heat recovery products.

Former Vice President Al Gore opened the event with a speech followed by a performance by nine-time Grammy award winner Sheryl Crow.

GreenBuild' goals are to transform the way buildings are designed, built and operated, enabling an environmentally sustainable environment within one generation.

Enviro-Pak recycles waste heat from air conditioners and refrigeration systems to make hot water.
